

LITTLE HANDS AND PRAYER BEADS

This is a story about a young Bahá'í girl named Mona who took initiative and responded to the National call to raise money for the Bahá'í Fund.

Mona, a very creative and talented 10-year old who resides in the city of Renton, a small city near the greater Seattle area heard that the National Bahá'í Fund was falling short on meeting their annual goal with only a few weeks to go before Ridván. She wanted to help in any way she could, so she decided to do something about it. With the help of her family, she organized a fundraiser; she made dozens of bracelets and prayer beads for sale and contributed all of the money she raised to the National Fund.

Thank you, Mona, for your generous contribution!
