

TREASURERS NOTES

FOR THE FEAST OF NÚR/LIGHT

JUNE 4, 2017

For Consultation

“Naturally, the friends habitually look to the teachings to set the standard to which to aspire. But the community’s deepening engagement with society means that the economic dimension of social existence must receive ever more concentrated attention. Particularly in clusters where the community-building process is beginning to embrace large numbers, the exhortations contained in the Bahá’í Writings should increasingly inform economic relationships within families, neighborhoods, and peoples.”

~ The Universal House of Justice, March 1, 2017

In what ways can our study of the Word of God increasingly inform our economic relationships?
